FOUNDER

Elite at a Glance

Founded by Evelyn Gruber, Elite is built on more than three decades of international golf travel experience.

In 1995, Evelyn established Austria's first specialist golf travel company. Since then, she has traveled to 99 countries, lived and worked across three continents, and helped shape international golf tourism as one of IAGTO's founding members

That experience gives Elite firsthand destination intelligence, trusted global relationships and the judgment required to deliver complex, high-value golf journeys.

Golf Travel, Designed With Judgment

The finest golf journeys are not created by simply connecting tee times, hotels and transfers. They depend on judgment: knowing which courses matter, how a destination should flow, where the itinerary needs space and which details will shape the guest experience.

Elite brings exceptional golf, carefully selected accommodations, culture, cuisine and personal service together in a way that feels natural, considered and true to each destination.

Golf is the anchor. The complete experience is the reason to travel.

THE ELITE APPROACH

Like a mosaic, every detail contributes to the complete Journey

What Makes Elite Different

01

Firsthand Destination Intelligence

Elite's recommendations are grounded in personal experience of the courses, hotels, cultures and logistics that define each destination.

02

Intelligent Journey Design

We understand which courses matter, how the routing should flow and how golf, accommodations, culture and pace must work together.

03

Relationship-Led Access

Relationships built across decades connect our travelers and partners with trusted people, exceptional golf and specialist opportunities beyond standard booking channels.

04

High-Touch Delivery

From the first conversation through the final departure, Elite combines clear communication, personal care and experienced problem-solving to protect the entire journey.

Bucket-List & Private Golf Travel

For Golfers Who Know What Matters

Some golfers choose a destination because it offers golf. Others travel to play courses they have dreamed about for years.

Elite designs private and hosted journeys for golfers who value course architecture, history, rankings, access and intelligent routing. From classic links and championship venues to private clubs and World Top 100 Courses, every journey is shaped around the golf that matters and the experience beyond it.

We consider the full journey: the right sequence of courses, carefully selected accommodations, realistic pacing, cultural experiences and the personal details that turn exceptional golf into meaningful travel.

Great courses. Intelligent routing. Journeys worth remembering.

Women's Golf & Lifestyle Travel

Golf, Culture, Friendship & Discovery

Elite's commitment to women's golf is deeply personal.

Evelyn grew up in Austria, where women have long been a strong and visible part of golf. After moving to the United States, she recognized that women's golf travel was often treated as a secondary market rather than the meaningful opportunity it represents.

That contrast helped shape Elite's mission: to create welcoming international journeys where women can play exceptional golf, discover new cultures, build friendships and travel with confidence.

Hosted by experienced golf professionals and Elite ambassadors, these journeys combine memorable courses with culture, cuisine, thoughtful pacing and the shared experience of traveling with like-minded women.

Come for the golf. Leave with new friendships, greater confidence and a wider world.

Golf Clubs, PGA Professionals & Private Events

Programs Designed to Reflect Your Standards

Elite designs and delivers custom golf and lifestyle programs for private clubs, PGA Professionals, member groups and high-profile events. From Travel with Your Pro journeys and private club departures to Pro-Ams, foundation events and invitation-only experiences, every program is designed around the identity, expectations and objectives of the organization behind it.

These programs require more than an exceptional itinerary. They demand disciplined logistics, clear guest communication, polished hospitality, tournament expertise and an understanding of how every decision reflects on the host.

Elite brings together exceptional golf, personal service and experienced execution to protect the guest experience—and the reputation behind it.

Your members. Your reputation. Our specialist expertise.

Collaborative program development with trusted partners across global golf destinations

Specialist golf travel education and destination support for luxury travel advisors

Travel & Industry Partnerships

Specialist Expertise Behind Every Partnership

Golf travel is valuable, but complex. Serving golfers properly requires more than securing a hotel and a collection of tee times. It requires specialist knowledge of courses, access, routing, logistics and the details that shape the entire journey.

Elite works with luxury travel advisors, selected golf tour operators, destinations and industry partners who value credible expertise and disciplined delivery.

Depending on the partnership, Elite provides destination intelligence, itinerary development, specialist consultation, operational support, hosted programs and access to a global network built over decades.

Our role is clear: to strengthen the partner's offering, protect the client relationship and help deliver golf travel with confidence.

Your relationship. Our specialist expertise. One exceptional journey.

A World of Golf, Culture, and Lifestyle

Elite creates golf and lifestyle journeys across the world's most compelling destinations, connecting exceptional courses with the culture, cuisine and experiences that give each place its character.

At Elite, golf is always central—but it is never the only measure of a great journey. The best golf travel feels beautifully paced, deeply considered and personally rewarding from arrival to farewell.

For us, recognition is not the story. Trust is.

Industry recognition reflects more than the journeys Elite creates. It represents consistent delivery, long-standing partnerships and the confidence placed in us by golfers, clubs and travel professionals worldwide.

Trusted by golfers. Respected by partners. Recognized by the industry.

What Our Guests, Hosts & Partners Say

The strongest journeys are remembered not only for the golf, but for the way every detail came together.
